Although most of our promotional activities are aimed at delivering commercial benefits to our clients, there is a whole area of promotional activity within the 3rd Sector and community groups that many businesses are unaware could benefit them and their staff.

We aim to donate 10% of our time to community activities and not for profit support which not only produces that "warm, fuzzy feeling" but also develops skills within the younger & less experienced staff. It's great fun, can act as a team building activity and in many circumstances can raise your corporate profile within the community.

If you, or any of your staff would like to explore volunteering, either for fun or to develop skills & experience, just drop us a line & we can provide some ideas & opportunities ... again, of course, free of charge.
